SAMPLE FINAL PRODUCT · Selling Listing Rewrite — what you get, and a sample of the finished product

What you get

- A new title, written so buyers can find the item.
- A full description, built only from your facts — nothing invented.
- The wording checked against the rules of the place where the listing will be posted (title length, banned words and practices).
- The final product: one PDF with a mockup page — how the listing will look with the approved words, in editable boxes you can copy from — and a plain-text page holding only the approved words.

The pages that follow are a sample of that final product.

How the service works

The road your order travels · step by step

1

You choose and pay

Pick your tier on the service page and pay by card. The price and the scope of time are shown before you pay · nothing is added later.

2

You send your facts

The thank-you page opens your intake form. Send your current listing, or just the facts about the item. We work only from what you send · a missing fact pauses the clock, and we ask instead of inventing.

3

We write your listing

A new title and a full description, built only from your facts and checked against the rules of the place where the listing will be posted.

4

You review the draft

The draft arrives on the channel you picked · WhatsApp, text message, or email. You have 3 days to review each draft.

5

We revise

Your tier sets the rounds: Basic 1 round, Standard 2 rounds, Premium 3 rounds. Each round works from your notes.

6

You approve the words

When the words are right, you accept them on the acceptance form. Your click, your username, and your receipt number form the agreement record.

7

You receive the final PDF

One PDF: a mockup page showing how your listing will look with the approved words, and a plain-text page with only the words, ready to copy.

8

You post it yourself

You paste the words into your own account and post. We only provide the text · we do not post or list for you.

Questions before you pay? Use the Ask a Question link on the site · a human answers.
